PROJECTS DONE

Project - Flood Detection System Using IOT

In this project, the objective is to sense the water levels at riverbeds and check whether they are at a normal condition or not. If they reach beyond the limit, then it alerts the people through LED indications as well as through internet application.

Project – Sign Language Recognition Using Machine Learning

This can be very helpful for the deaf and dumb people in communicating with others as knowing sign language is not something that is common to all, moreover, this can be extended to creating automatic editors, where the person can easily write by just their hand gestures.
